

Dear Hilary,

Its 5:30 am, Tues, Sept. 18th. Its just one day after you told me you were dating someone. I felt so good as I listened to your feelings.

at first I just felt how much ~~easy~~ easier your life would be and how "normal" it would be. I was so proud of you for having the courage to follow your heart and to choose someone who was good for you. I was so happy to hear you saying how you felt despite anything anyone else thinks or feels. I could see you putting Heavenly Father first and it gave me a perfect knowledge that all in your life would fall into place or fall out! All according to Heavenly Father's will.

I felt peace and left everything in Heavenly Father's hands.

Later that day I felt a deep impression that perhaps whoever this guy is that you are dating is like Lance was for me; the person Heavenly Father gave me to keep me from "settling" or getting around & spending time w/ less worthy & inspiring guys. Lance was someone who showed great respect for me & reminded me of who I REALLY am and how I deserve to be treated. Ultimately it was not Heavenly Father's will for me to actually be with Lance but all of my time with him prepared me to be with Doug once Doug could love & respect me the way he does now, which is greater than I could have ever imagined!

Hilary, only you can know between Heavenly Father and yourself if it is Heavenly Father's will for you to be w/ Doug & to be a great part of our eternal family. I will always feel you as a great part of me no matter what you choose! I have such a deep love & respect for you & the person you are at such a young age. I know you have great blessings ahead of you!

I want you to be the mother of my children. I want you to teach them how precious each of our Heavenly Father's children is and remind them that they are not only precious to Heavenly Father and to their earthly parents but to their mother who has been physically called to serve her mission elsewhere but who in spirit is still with them & praying for their ability to have the strength to know & fulfill their own missions upon the earth. I want you to teach them to be true to their REAL selves by putting their Heavenly Father above all men & even his will above their own desires until His will becomes their will!

Most of all, though, I want you to do these things only if YOU feel it is Heavenly Father's plan for you and that in doing these things you will be being true to Him and to yourself.

I can promise you that you will have special trials if you accept this calling. I can also promise you that if it is Heavenly Father's will, you will receive special blessings and that I will do all I'm aloud to do to support you from the other side. You would have my full support in spirit! I have no advice for you, ~~but~~ except to just be your sweet, beautiful self, never fearing the ignorance of man but seeking only to glorify our Heavenly Father. I trust you as I know He does!

I know Doug loves you. I know why & the special person he sees; I see & love also. No matter who Doug marries I pray that there will NEVER enter into her heart a feeling of "first" + "second" wife or a spirit of competition! We are to love one another as the Savior has loved us. There is no place for jealousy and it is impossible to be better or worse than anyone else; no matter how hard we may waste time trying.

Of course this is not our reason for being here; to lift ourselves above or place ourselves below others. Our whole purpose is to become like our brother, Jesus Christ, & through his gifts of forgiveness & repentance help those around us to do the same.

I feel such peace that you would know of my respect for you and know of my desire to be equal partners; playing different roles in the lives of our human family. I feel a oneness with you as I see your desire to serve our Heavenly Father & His son Jesus Christ.

No matter what, know above all else how much I love & admire you and wish for your happiness. I pray Heavenly Father will bless you with all good things; with beauty, love, faith, hope & peace.

Love always & forever,
Gaylene
