

A topographic map of Afghanistan and its neighboring countries, Iran to the west and Pakistan to the east. The map uses color to represent elevation, with green for lower altitudes and brown for higher, mountainous terrain. A large area in the southern and eastern parts of Afghanistan is highlighted in yellow. This highlighted area is divided into several provinces, each labeled with a white text box on a dark background. The labels are: Nimroz (westernmost province of the highlighted area), Helmand (north of Nimroz), Baluchistan (south of Helmand), Kandahar (north of Helmand and west of Zabul), and Zabul (easternmost province of the highlighted area). The word 'AFGHANISTAN' is written in large white letters across the upper part of the map. 'Iran' is labeled in yellow on the left, and 'Pakistan' is labeled in white on the right.
