Statement from DeVry College of New York

At DeVry College of New York, we take very seriously our responsibility to educate our students for real-world employment. We also take our commitment to transparency and disclosure to our current and prospective students equally as serious.

One proof point in how we prepare our students for the real world is our graduate employment statistics. We disclose on our web site, and during the admissions process in writing and verbally, the methodology for calculating these employment statistics. DeVry has a strong compliance program to train all admissions advisors on how to disclose numbers such as these, and has its own mystery shopper program to help ensure our admissions advisors remain truthful and transparent.

If the admissions advisor featured in the ABC segment did not follow our procedure, we apologize and will work to correct that.

We absolutely support efforts to make certain educators are transparent in sharing information with prospective students about their colleges. We remain steadfast in our rigorous efforts to maintain the high ethical standards of all those employed at DeVry College of New York.

Anthony A. Stanziani
Metro President, DeVry College of New York
