

Democrats win when we unite America.

 Obama'08
BarackObama.com

America wins when we are united for change.

P.O. Box 8102
Chicago, IL 60680

PRESORTED
STANDARD
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
SGI

Feb5P4

8 years of the Clintons,

major losses for Democrats across the nation.

Governors (-12 Ds)

30 Dems after 1992 election
18 Dems after 2000 election

U.S. Senators (-7 Ds)

57 Dems after 1992 election
50 Dems after 2000 election

Reps (-46 Ds)

258 Dems after 1992 election
212 Dems after 2000 election

"It's time to end the political strategy that's been all about division and instead make it about addition—to build a coalition for change that stretches through Red States and Blue States."

*"Because that's how we'll win in November, and that's how we'll finally meet the challenges that we face as a nation."
- Barack Obama*

All across Iowa, among the Independent voters of New Hampshire, in rural Nevada and across the diverse state of South Carolina, Barack Obama has won by bringing Democrats, Independents, and even Republicans together behind his message of change.

Because he brings people together, poll after poll shows Obama is the only Democrat who beats all five Republican candidates.

TPM - Poll: Obama More Electable Than Hillary

By Eric Kleefeld - December 18, 2007, 11:31AM

The new Gallup poll finds that Barack Obama would be a stronger Democratic nominee than Hillary Clinton. Either of them could win when matched up against three top Republicans, but Obama has stronger margins and is above 50% support for himself in all three cases:

Obama draws a greater share of the independent and Republican vote.

- Gallup Poll, January 16, 2008

When we vote
for Barack Obama, *America wins.

It's time to turn the page on the divisive politics of the past.

South Carolina voters rejected Hillary Clinton's divisive and deceptive attacks.

[Source: Exit Poll Data, 1/26/08]

Fair or not, poll after poll shows Hillary Clinton helps Republicans divide America.

Clinton's nomination would be a guaranteed return to the permanent political warfare of the last decade—the kind of warfare that succeeds in winning elections for Republicans but accomplishes nothing for the American people.

Zogby Poll: Half Say They Would Never Vote for Hillary Clinton for President [October 20, 2007]

Paid for By Obama for America